- Subscribe to hear the CECA Conference 2006 sessions via Podcast!!! Starting November 1st, CECA will begin releasing the audio recordings of the breakout sessions from the 2006 conference and the keynote address by David Warlick on our podcast feed. Approximately three session recordings will be released per week. All sessions in which the speaker gave us permission to post their audio will eventually be added to the podcast.

CECA is a nonprofit organization composed of educators and business leaders who believe in the integration of technology. We educate school personnel in the use of technology and disseminate information about its value in the education of today's youth.
